

P.L.E PERFORMANCE IN TORORO DISTRICT

BACK GROUND

Education is a human right that every one is entitled to. According to the UN report, 1948, education shall be free, at least in the elementary and fundamental stages. Fundamental stages of education refer to those within the age brackets of 6-12 years, which is presumably the primary school going age. By the end of primary education, a person is expected to know at least how to read and write in some language. This however may not be the case with Tororo district given the performance of the primary schools.

The overall literacy rate in Uganda by 2002 was 68% (for persons aged 10 years and above). This differed between sexes with 76% for males and 61% for females (Uganda population and Housing census - main report, 2002). According to Uganda bureau of Statistics (UBOS), the adult literacy rate was 64% with females having a lower rate of 54% than males at 75%.

The introduction of UPE in 1997 lead to an increased enrolment from 2.6 million to 5.3 million pupils in the years 1996 to 1997 respectively (Uganda poverty status report, 2003). By 2002, total enrolment in primary education schools was 7.3 million with Tororo district having 7,728 registered for Primary leaving exams (PLE) of which 6,802 sat.

Despite this massive enrolment rate, a lot still remains to be desired for a reasonable literacy rate to be achieved. This is because of the problems associated with UPE; for instance, the pupil-classroom ratio for government schools was still at 94:1 by 2002 while the pupil-teacher ratio was 54:1 (Uganda Poverty status report, 2003). Funding for most schools is inadequate by government, which has forced a cut down on teaching staff especially at primary levels. This is reflected in the PLE performance of most of these schools. A summary of performance of primary schools in PLE from Tororo district is shown below for the years 1993 to 2004. There is also a detailed list of performance by schools for selected years.

Apart from the years 1998 and 1999, there has been a low pass in Div 1 after the introduction of Universal Primary Education (UPE) i.e. after 1997 than before. Tororo district has never reached 3% pass in Div 1 from 2000 to date.

There seems to be a lot of laxity among the teaching staff due to poor close supervision by the head teachers.

According to Aroda Joceline Robinson, the district inspector of schools-Tororo;

"....learners are pushed to the next classes without acquiring the expected learning competencies particularly in literacy and numeracy. This is due to a lot of time wasting by teachers, Head teachers and pupils".

This is a sign that there is a problem with the system in this area and some thing has to be done before it's too late.
